

Important Information Regarding Your Smog DADdy™ Product

Dear Smog DADdy™ Customer

Thank you for purchasing the Smog DADdy product from Applus Technologies, Inc., a world leader in the automotive inspection industry.

Accompanying this document is a form titled “Disclosure Agreement”. The form was created by the California Bureau of Automotive Repair (BAR) and is required to be included with all Data Acquisition Devices (DADs) supplied by vendors for use in the Smog Check Program.

The form states facts related to use of the DAD, as well as details regarding the annual recertification requirement mandated by BAR.

It is a BAR requirement that the disclosure document be filled out in its entirety by the purchaser and returned to Applus Technologies, Inc., who will provide it to BAR on your behalf. BAR has stated that it will not activate a DAD for use in the Smog Check program until the completed document is on file.

If you purchased multiple DADs for use in one station, only one (1) disclosure agreement is required to be returned to BAR.

We encourage you to complete this document immediately to minimize any delay in registering your Smog DADdy device to perform smog inspections. The form can be mailed, faxed or emailed per the information at the bottom of this document.
